Particulars of Organization, functions and duties

(Section 4(1)(b)(i))

Brief history and Background of the Council

To streamline research in Homoeopathy, the need of a planned and organized research set up was strongly felt by the Government of India. As a result, the Central Council for Research in Indian Medicine and Homoeopathy (CCRIMH) was established in 1969 to carry out researches in Ayurveda, Siddha, Unani medicine, Yoga and Homoeopathy. The Central Council for Research in Homoeopathy (CCRH), one of the successor organizations to the erstwhile CCRIMH was established as an autonomous organization, at New Delhi in 1978 under the Ministry of AYUSH, Govt. of India. Since then the CCRH remains a unique organization engaged in organized researches in Homoeopathy.

Aims and Objectives of the Organization

The main objectives of the Council are: -

1. The formulation of aims and patterns of research on scientific lines in Homoeopathy.
2. To undertake any research or other programmes in Homoeopathy.
3. The prosecution of and assistance in research, the propagation of knowledge and experimental measures generally in connection with the causation, mode of spread and prevention of diseases.
4. To initiate, develop, coordinate scientific research in different aspects, fundamental and applied of Homoeopathy and to promote and assist institutions of research for the study of diseases, their prevention, causation and remedy.
5. To finance enquiries and researches for the furtherance of objects of the Central Council.
6. To exchange information with other institutions, associations and societies interested in the objects similar to those of the Central Council and specially in observation and study of diseases in East and in India in particular.
7. To prepare, print, publish and exhibit any papers, posters, pamphlets, periodicals and books for furtherance of the objects of the Central Council and contribute to such literature
8. To issue appeals and make applications for money and funds in furtherance of the objects of the Central Council and to accept for the aforesaid purpose gifts, donations and subscriptions of cash and securities and of any property whether movable or immovable.
9. To borrow or raise monies with or without security or on security mortgage, charge, hypothecation or pledge of all or any of the immovable or movable properties belonging to the Central Council or in any other manner whatever.
10. To invest and deal with the funds and monies of the Central Council or entrusted to the Central Council not immediately required in such manner as may from time to time be determined by the Governing body of the Central Council.
11. To permit the funds of the Central Council to be held by the Government of India.

12. To acquire and hold, whether temporarily or permanently any movable or immovable property necessary or convenient for the purpose of the Central Council.
13. To sell, lease mortgage and exchange and otherwise transfer any of the properties movable or immovable of the Central Council provided prior approval of the Central government is obtained for the transfer of the immovable property.
14. To purchase, construct, maintain and alter any buildings or works necessary or convenient for the purpose of the Central Council.
15. To undertake and accept the management of any endowment or trust fund for donation the undertaking or acceptance whereof may seem desirable.
16. To offer prizes and grant of scholarships, including traveling scholarships in furtherance of the objects of the Central Council.
17. To create administrative, technical and ministerial and other posts under the society and to make appointments there to in accordance with rules and regulations of the Society.
18. To establish a provident fund and or pension fund for the benefit of the Central Council's employees and/or their family members
19. To do all such other lawful things either alone or in conjunction with others as the Central Council may consider necessary or as being incidental or conducive to the attainment of the above objects.

Organizational set up:

At present, the Council has a network of its 26 Institutes/ Units as stated below:

• Central Research Institutes	3
• Homoeopathic Drug Research Institute	1
• Regional Research Institutes	10
• Clinical Research Units	8
• Clinical Verification Units	1
• Extension Units	2
• Survey, Collection and Cultivation of Medicinal Plants Unit	1
Total	: 26

Research Activities

- (i) Clinical Research
- (ii) Drug Proving Research
- (iii) Clinical Verification
- (iv) Drug Standardization
- (v) Fundamental Research
- (vi) Survey, Collection and Cultivation of Medicinal Plants.

Clinical Research: Clinical Research in Homoeopathy helps in generating, validating and consolidating scientific evidences (in terms of safety, efficacy and effectiveness) of homoeopathic medications, procedures and treatment regimes. This research may be useful in prevention, treatment of various diseases, decision making for stake holders and thus help in improving clinical care. The aim is to carry out evidence-based trials based on modern scientific parameters (double blinding; objective assessment criteria, statistical analysis, etc.) without conflicting with the doctrines of Homoeopathy. More emphasis is laid upon the clinical evaluation of homoeopathic medicines in disease conditions of national health importance, where no curative treatment is available in conventional medicine, endemic diseases in certain parts of the country and the so-called surgical diseases.

Being one of the major activities of the Council, Clinical research has traversed a path from prospective observational studies to gold standard randomized controlled studies. Studies in various diseased conditions are taken up from time to time as per the guidance of Scientific Advisory Committee (SAC). Earlier, multi-centric clinical studies were conducted to ascertain therapeutic utility of a smaller group of medicines on the protocols developed in consultation with the experts in respective fields from All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS), Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR), National Institute of Communicable Diseases (NICD), National AIDS Control Organization (NACO), eminent homeopathic Educators and Researchers. Presently as per the need of the hour, randomized controlled trials (RCT) are being conducted to establish the effectiveness of homoeopathic treatment. The results of these studies are published time to time in the National, International peer reviewed journals of importance.

Till date Council has conducted 136 studies on various diseases, out of which 121 studies were concluded (106 were observational studies and 15 randomized clinical trials) and 15 studies were withdrawn. The salient achievements in clinical studies have been in HIV/AIDS, Acute Rhinitis in children, Gastroenteritis, Chronic Sinusitis, Influenza like illness, Benign prostatic hyperplasia, acute haemorrhoids, cervical spondylosis pain management, urolithiasis etc.

Collaboration with International Organizations

UCLA Collaborative study on AIDS Prevention with Traditional Medicine

The Council undertook a study ‘AIDS Prevention with Traditional Medicine’ in collaboration with University of California, Los Angeles (UCLA). The study involved assessment of existing level of knowledge of HIV/AIDS amongst homoeopathic educators and practitioners and their level of comfort in discussing sexuality and HIV/AIDS with their students and clients respectively. The study involved participation of 40 educators and 40 practitioners (20 each at New Delhi and Pune). Twelve Focus Group meets, comprising of 6-7 participants each, were conducted at New Delhi and Pune during March 2003-May 2004.

The study was aimed at development of an instrument for the training of Homoeopathic Educators and Practitioners. The training module thus developed shall be used during the ‘Train the Trainer’ study funded by the World AIDS Foundation, USA that shall be undertaken in collaboration with UCLA between the years 2005 and 2007.

Drug Proving: Drug Proving also termed as Homoeopathic Pathogenetic Trial (HPT) is a process in which drug substances are put into trial on healthy human volunteers and their pathogenetic effects are observed, noted and compiled as the first step to introduce the drug in the Homoeopathic Materia Medica. Proving of a drug substance is a unique process in Homoeopathy. Unlike conventional medicine where animal experimentation forms the basis of evaluation of drug pathogenesis, homoeopathic medicines are proved on healthy human volunteers, including controls, from both sexes and age group between 18-60 years. The Central Council for Research in Homoeopathy since its inception in 1978 has adopted the Drug Proving Research Program as one of its primary research areas where Council has focused on proving of indigenous drugs and fragmentarily proved drugs.

Clinical Verification: Clinical Verification is one of the flagship research programmes of the Council since inception. Clinical Verification of symptomatic data of 106 drugs till date, including those proved by the Council and those, which have had fragmentary provings. Till now data on 72 drugs have been published in the form of a Materia Medica's in the name of "Study of Homoeopathic Medicines through Clinical Verification – A new perspective" in three volumes. The rest of the drugs has been published either in the form of monographs or as research articles. The data on the remaining drugs is under compilation and is going to be published soon in the form of Materia Medica.

Drug Standardisation: Success in homoeopathic prescribing is based upon the purity and quality of raw drugs & finished products. A sub-standard drug will not produce desired results in a sick individual. Drug standardisation encompasses a comprehensive evaluation of the homoeopathic drugs in respect of their pharmacognostical, physico-chemical and pharmacological profiles in order to study the various qualitative and quantitative characteristics of drugs. The pharmacognostical studies of raw drug plant material include study of the gross morphology of the raw drug, its macro and microscopical characteristics and after suitable processing enumeration of characteristic structures of cells, tissues and organs under the microscope and determining their essential bio statistical dimensions. The physico-chemical parameters of the raw drug and prepared mother tincture include moisture content, ash value, extractive value, presence of active constituents in raw drug and organoleptic characteristics, carrying out specific tests and TLC, UV spectrophotometry of the mother tincture. These can be used as a bench mark standard against any commercial sample to be compared with in future or as reference whenever there is a necessity. The pharmacological spectrum of a drug is ascertained through experimental trials on laboratory animals under standard laboratory conditions which include preliminary estimation of dosage, evaluation of efficacy and safety and also the mode of action of homoeopathic drugs. The council has undertaken pharmacognostical studies on 297 drugs, physico-chemical studies on 304 & pharmacological studies on 149 drugs (as in March 2016).142 drugs have been studied in all the three aspects. The standards of the drugs worked out by the Council are definite gains and are important for preparation of quality homoeopathic medicines.

These findings have been published in research journals; monographs and books of the Council:

- Standardisation of Homoeopathic Drugs Vol. I- IV
- Identification of Homoeopathic Drugs of Plant Origin
- Pharmacological action of Homoeopathic drugs and
- Vernacular names of plant drug in Homoeopathic Pharmacopoeia of India: which contains data of 548 plant drugs incorporated in Homoeopathic Pharmacopoeia of India (HPI) Volumes I-IX in various languages to identify them locally. This compilation has been made as an effort to improve the Homoeopathic Pharmacopoeia of India bringing it at par with other world class pharmacopoeias.

At present, pharmacognostical & physico-chemical studies are being undertaken at two centres of the council:

1. Dr D. P. Rastogi Central Research Institute (H), Noida
2. Regional Research Institute (H), Hyderabad (A.P.)

Survey, Collection & Cultivation of Medicinal Plants: About 70% of the Homeopathic drugs are derived from medicinal plants sources and for maintaining the quality of the drug, the source material is collected either from wild occurrence or is cultivated in the gardens with expert supervision. For maintaining authentic plant source material in fresh and live condition, the Council has established a medicinal plants research garden and a Survey of Medicinal Plants and Cultivation Unit, which collects raw drug plant material from areas surveyed from all over India. This research unit has now been renamed as “Centre of Medicinal Plants Research in Homoeopathy” in Tamil Nadu at Indira Nagar, Emerald Post, Nilgiris District (T. N.), taking into account the manifold aspects of research work on medicinal plants being carried out here. This research Centre in addition to conducting survey for the collection of the medicinal plants used in Homoeopathy in its wild state also cultivates both exotic and indigenous plant material for supply as and when required for drug standardization or drug preparation, both for in-house research and also for Homoeopathic drug manufacturers the surplus raw drug plant material in ‘not for profit’ basis. Currently 75 plant (61 exotic plants and 14 indigenous plant species are being cultivated the plant species are under experimental cultivation and below conservation cum germplasm collection at demonstration plots for further multiplication or seed production to continue as next generation and being maintained as reference species useful in Homoeopathy. In addition the laboratory for carrying out drug standardization research studies is also hoped to be established here in future, bringing all aspects of research in medicinal plants under one umbrella. The Centre has conducted 202 surveys and supplied 542 raw drugs to Units for carrying out standardisation studies, 9384 herbarium sheets have been prepared and mounted with their voucher specimen number till date.

A rigid poly house constructed by poly carbonate sheet has been inaugurated by Director general, CCRH during the visit of Special Committee Members of Drug Standardization in the month of August 2017, the utilization of this poly house and its usage is mainly for the process of seedling germination, vegetative propagation (VP-Clones), and mass production of plantlet for development/cultivation of the entire larger area for internal usage, for the supply of raw drug to drug standardization units and for commercial purpose. This poly house is very unique and constructed for the first time in Nilgiris by using poly carbonate sheet.

Publication/Documentation: Dissemination and communication are two very important aspects in the field of science. As a primary mandate, the Council disseminates the outcomes of the research studies through effective documentation and publications.

To share the research outcomes with clinicians, researchers, teachers, students, policy makers and common man, the Council publishes books, monographs, newsletter and IEC material. In its endeavor to reach out globally, the Council publishes a peer reviewed quarterly research journal, Indian Journal of Research in Homoeopathy which can be accessed online at www.ijrh.org. The print copy of the journal can be obtained from the Council's Headquarters or can be ordered online.

The Council publishes quality books on Drug Standardization, Homoeopathic Pathogenetic Trials and Clinical Verification apart from Mother and Child Health and Homoeopathic Materia Medica. The online purchase of these publications has been facilitated for Indian readers by integrating payment gateway with Council's website (www.ccrhindia.nic.in)

The Council was launched its website www.ccrhindia.org (at present : www.ccrhindia.nic.in) on 8th October 1999.

Grievances Redressal Mechanism

Vigilance cell exists in the Council under the overall supervision of the Director General, CCRH for receiving complaints/suggestions from public / individuals/ users and clients on the functioning of the Council. There is a Chief Vigilance officer to deal with vigilance.

The list of publications available in the Council 's website : www.ccrhindia.nic.in

LIBRARY

The inception of this Library and Information Centre dates back to 1979 when a small library was set up with a small collection of about five hundred Publications to start primarily to meet the information needs of the Research Scientists of the Council. With the passage of time, the library grew at a fast pace, and, in order to cater to the ever increasing R&D information needs of the professionals, it systematically and gradually grew as a collection of specialized reading materials such as books, periodicals, reference works, serials in the areas of Homoeopathic Research and Drugs & Pharmaceuticals.

Presently it has a collection of 11267 books and 2470 bound volumes of Indian and Foreign Journals. It is also subscribing 11 foreign Journals (Print & Online issue) every year. The center publishes value added Current Awareness Periodicals, besides providing services to the in-house staff as well as to academia and industry from within the country.

The wealth of this highly specialized library now began to draw the attention of the academic and R&D workers of other institutions in the city like Nehru Homoeopathic Medical College and Hospital, B.R. Sur Homoeopathic Medical College, Hospitals and Research Centre etc. and outside the city from Homoeopathic Medical Colleges and research scholars.

R&D activities in CCRH are supported by a fully automated library with a rich collection of relevant books, in the field of Homoeopathy and Allied sciences.

OBJECTIVES

- To collect, collate and disseminate information related to homoeopathy in general and homoeopathic research in particular.
- To provide indexes and abstracts of homoeopathy literature to the members of the professionals of the Council.
- To be a professionally managed technical support organization for homeopathy and facilitate creative and innovative environment for homoeopathic research.
- To strengthen the inter-library linkages by establishment of some medical libraries and supporting resources/referral libraries.

LIBRARY SERVICES

The Council's library is providing following services to its users: -

Online public access catalogue(opac) services

The collection of books, bound journals, theses available in Library, which can be searched through Library OPAC Search.

E-journals service

Library is subscribing 11 online e-journals in the field of Homoeopathy and complementary medicine from the reputed publishers. The researches can access the e-journals from remote locations.

E-Consortia

The library has developed e-consortia for sharing of resources pertaining to Ayush Systems with approx. 90 research Councils/Institutes/Units who are the member of the consortia.

Digital library

This collection comprises of old journals which have been inactive and not readily available through the internet. The council has access to it as the council has been subscribing to such journals since 1979 for our research scholars. All the back volumes of homoeopathic journals are digitized and made available to the research scientist of the Council through Council's website.

Institutional Research Repository

In 40 years of its existence, the council has achieved success in its various programs - Drug Proving, Clinical Verification, Drug Standardization Clinical Research and Fundamental Research and has several archival documents like Indian Journal of Research in Homoeopathy, CCRH Newsletters, CCRH Quarterly Bulletin, Officials records of Council and minutes of the meeting Scientific Advisory Committee, Standing Finance Committee and General Body meetings which project history of Council. These documents are part of institutional research repository.

Current awareness service

The service was started in 1988 in the form of Current Health Literature Awareness Services (CHLAS) quarterly publication. 28 Volumes of CHLAS were published. To improve the visibility and accessibility of the index of articles CCRH Library has taken an initiative to provide the service as e-index on monthly basis as "e-CHLAS". To widen our horizon the Council has also initiated one more service where in the abstracts of the publications related to AYUSH systems shall be compiled and shared among all the research Council's. This service shall be named as "Research at a Glance".

- e-CHLAS

To keep the users abreast of latest scientific articles published in various journals/magazines subscribed by the Council's library brings out e-CHLAS.

- Research at A Glance

The library of the Central Council for Research in Homoeopathy has introduced a new service in the year 2017-18 called "Research at a Glance". The main objective is to disseminate precise information/citation about scientific articles published in various journals/magazine other than the journals subscribed by this Council. The scope of the publication is articles on Homeopathy, Ayurveda, Unani, Yoga. This service is also a monthly service and 12 issues released every year.

CCRH quarterly bulletin-a cumulative index, vol. 1-28 (1979-2006)

The library has also compiled a cumulative index of articles published in CCRH Quarterly Bulletin. The objective of this service is to provide the information about articles published by the Council's Scientists to users at a glance.

DIRECTORY OF UNITS/INSTITUTE UNDER CCRH

The library has compiled a directory of Units/Institute under CCRH with an aim to provide information related to ongoing research studies, concluded research studies, laboratory facilities of a particular Unit/Institute.

Bibliographic services

Subject Bibliographies are compiled on request, according to the requirement of users.

Medico abstract

Exhaustive literature compilations on various diseases of major relevance have been made, indexed and abstracted and published in the form of Medico Abstracts considering an abstracted article from point of view of its information characteristics and use, it is designed to meet mainly needs that with the help of abstracts one is able to get some idea of the information/content of each of the items included.

The purpose of Medico Abstracts is to create awareness and to improve the effectiveness and efficiency of clinician through the identification of good clinical practice and desired clinical outcomes. The Medico Abstracts on the following topics have been published so far by the CCRH Library.

- a. Renal Disorders
